

CHRISTMAS IS A JEWISH HOLIDAY (OR AT LEAST IT SHOULD BE)

Now isn't Christmas supposed to be the celebration of the birth of the greatest Jew who ever lived?

Y'shua (that's the Jewish way to say Jesus), was *born in a very Jewish place – Bethlehem, to a very Jewish mother – Miriam,
for a very Jewish purpose – the salvation of the world.*

Maybe some are turned off to Christmas because of mistletoe, merchandising and media hype.

Maybe others could celebrate Christmas
if Santa Claus wasn't crowding Y'shua off the scene.

But most people avoid Christmas because they don't know Y'shua. Y'shua wants you to know him.
How about taking time this Christmas to discover the reason for the season?
